AntikBar is delighted to present a unique collection of Soviet travel posters and advertising material spanning over 70 years of USSR history, procured and curated over a period of 30 years with passion, care and patience by Kirill Kalinin, poster collector, dealer and founder of AntikBar, the London based original vintage poster gallery.

This important historical archive covers a variety of art styles from the 1930s-1990s and is the most complete compilation of posters, magazines, brochures and luggage labels promoting different destinations in the former Soviet Union, issued by the state travel company Intourist. The exceptional quality and range of material would be an ideal addition to any institutional or private collection.

Some of the items from this collection were displayed in the Around The World With An Easel exhibition held by the Russian Museum in Moscow and St Petersburg in 2009, and formed the core of the Visit The USSR exhibition at Vinzavod Moscow in 2010 and the See USSR exhibition at GRAD London in 2012.
