- *4. ALMEIDA, Palmira Morais Rocha de. Dicionário de autores no Brasil colonial. Lisbon: Colibri, 2003. Large 8°, original illustrated wrappers. As new. 502 pp., (1 l.). One of 600 copies. ISBN: 972-27-1244-6. $20.00

FIRST EDITION. A useful reference work, despite some minor faults due no doubt to a certain bibliographical naiveté (for example, Francisco Tavares de Brito's rare Itinerario geográfico, while it bears a Sevilha imprint, was certainly not printed in that city). Perhaps related to this point, curiously there is no mention whatsoever of either the Bibliografia do período colonial or the Bibliographia Brasilianna of Borba de Moraes. On the other hand, the "Suplementos" of "Obras colectivas, textos anónimos e históricos," and "Documentos jurídicos e políticos" (pp. 469-502) are of substantial interest, as is much of the main body of text. A revised and amplified second edition appeared in 2010.

5. ALVES, Ivone, Margarida Maria Ortigão Ramos, Maria Madalena Garcia, et al. Dicionário de terminologia arquivística. Lisbon: Instituto da Biblioteca Nacional e do Livro, 1993. Large 8°, original printed wrappers. As new. ix, 257, (1) pp. One of 1,000 copies. ISBN: 972-565-146-4.

Uncut. Slightly browned. In very good condition. Small rectangular brown on beige printed paper binder's ticket of Frederico d'Almeida / / Encadernador / / Lisboa—Rua Antonio Maria Cardoso, 31—(ao Chiado) tipped on to upper outer corner of front free endleaf verso. 158 pp., (1 blank l.).

FIRST and ONLY EDITION of this authoritative annotated bibliography of bibliographies, the first book of its kind published in Portugal, which includes general works, bibliographies of specific authors, auction catalogues, institutions, and specific topics. Indexes by authors, subjects, and institutions.

Item 9

- *8. ANSELMO, António Joaquim. Bibliografia das obras impressas em Portugal no século XVI. [Lisbon: Biblioteca Nacional], 1977. Large 4° (27.7 x 19.7 cm.), original printed wrappers. As new. (1 l.), x, 367 pp. ISBN: none. $50.00

Facsimile of an important work, still highly useful, originally published in Lisbon, 1926. It describes 1,312 sixteenth-century books printed in Portugal, with locations, collations and bibliographical references. Entries are arranged by printer; there are indexes of authors, titles and printing places. The paper of the original edition is highly acidic, and copies are beginning to decay; this facsimile edition is printed on much better quality paper, which will last much longer.

First Bibliography of the Law Written in Portuguese

The Rare First Edition, First Issue

9. [ARAGÃO, Antonio Barnabe d'Eslecano Barreto e]. Demetrio moderno, ou o bibliógrafo jurídico portuguez. O qual em huma breve dissertação historica, e critica propõem, e dá huma clara, e distincta ideia de todas as preciosas reliquias, e authenticos monumentos antigos, e modernos da legislação portugueza; e igualmente de todos os livros, e obras dos jurisconsultos, e escriptores reyniculas theoricos, e practicos, que escreverão nos reynados dos Senhores Reys de Portugal. A beneficio dos cultores da jurisprudencia theoretica destes reynos. Lisbon: Na Officina de Lino da Silva Godinho, 1780. 8°, contemporary cat's-paw sheep (rather worn, especially at head and foot of spine), spine richly gilt with raised bands in six compartments, edges rouged. Woodcut arms on title-page. Brownd. In good condition. (2 ll.), 216 pp. $2,400.00

FIRST EDITION, FIRST ISSUE. First bibliography of the law written in Portuguese. Since the author insisted on including some passages censured by the Mesa Censoria, sale of the book was prohibited in 1781, and those who had purchased copies were ordered to return them (see Grande enciclopédia III, 62-3). This first issue is not listed in Innocência (cf. I, 95), but NUC cites one of 1780 at MH-L, with the same number of pages in the text but only 2 preliminary leaves. It was almost certainly issued thus; the half-title appears not to be called for, and as there is no mention of a dedicatee on the title-page, it is logical that the two leaves of dedication encountered in the later issue are not required either.

* This first issue not in Innocência (cf. I, 95). Neither issue located in any major Portuguese auction catalogue. NUC: MH-L; second issue at DLC, CLL. OCLC: 253417491 (Ibero-Amerikanisches Institut Preußischer Kulturbesitz). Porbase locates two copies, in the Biblioteca Nacional de Portugal and the Biblioteca João Paulo II-Universidade Católica Portuguesa. This first issue not located in Jisc. Nor is it located in Melvyl.

FIRST EDITIONS. The Biblioteca Colombina is a private library, supported financially by the Fundación Cristóbal Colón. It was enriched by a bequest from Fernando Colón. The library contains incunabula and rare works on the discovery of America. It also contains manuscripts written by Christopher Columbus himself. Fernando was known as a scholar. He had a generous income from his father's New World domains, and used a sizable fraction of it to buy books, eventually amassing a personal library of over 15,000 volumes. Fernando personally noted every book that was acquired by listing the date of purchase, the location and how much was paid. Also, he devoted the bulk of his purchases to printed books instead of manuscripts. As a result, the library acquired a sizable number (currently 1,194 titles) of incunabula. After his father's death, Fernando inherited Columbus' personal library, and what remains of these volumes contains much valuable information on Columbus, his interests, and his explorations.

Facsimile reprint of the very rare Rio de Janeiro, 1881 original edition, the only previous one. Borba de Moraes writes of the 1881 edition:

"The preliminary leaves contain a history of the Imprensa Regia and the Imprensa Nacional of Rio de Janeiro from its establishment in 1808 to 1880. This is followed by a chronological catalogue of the publications of the Brazilian national press from 1808 to 1822 inclusive.

It is the standard bibliography on the subject. Cabral based his catalogue on the collection of the Imprensa Nacional and other sources. These registers no longer exist; it appears they were destroyed. The Imprensa Nacional was burned and not only its library was destroyed but a great number of books by Cabral were lost.

It is a rare book today and much sought after." Borba worked on a revision and augmentation a good part of his life. He left manuscripts of his findings, which were completed and brought to publication by Ana Maria de Almeida Camargo in two volumes, as Bibliografia da Imprensa Régia do Rio de Janeiro (1808-1822), São Paulo, 1993. The second volume, treating laws, contains much valuable information not provided by Valle Cabral; the first volume, dealing with the rest of the press's output, contains some new information, but substantially confirms Valle Cabral's work.

Camilo [Ferreira Botelho] Castelo Branco (1825-1890, created 1.º Visconde de Correia Botelho in 1885) was a novelist, playwright, poet and polemical writer—the most prolific author in the Portuguese language and the first to be able to live from the income of his writing.

31. CASTILHO, A[ntônio] F[eliciano] de. Ajuste de contas com os adversarios do Metodo Português. Coimbra [sic, for Coimbra]: Imprensa da Universidade, 1854. 8°, original brown printed wrappers (minor wear). Small wood-engraving of a hand holding a quill pen on title page. Uncut. Light browning at edges. In very good condition. Old blindstamp in blank portion of title page ("Domingos Vieira Ribeiro"), underlined in blue pencil. 110 pp., (1 blank l.). $400.00

FIRST EDITION; a second appeared in Lisbon, 1909, as part of the author's Obras Completas. Aside from his vast literary production, Castilho, appalled by the high rate of illiteracy in Portugal, invented a new method for teaching children to read. Originally published as Leitura repentina in the early 1850s, it was later called the "methodo portuguez." Castilho attempted to implement it while serving as Comissario Geral de Instrução Primaria. In this work he responds to his critics. A list of works published in response to the Metodo Portuguez appears on pp. 13-17.

Antonio Feliciano de Castilho (1800-75), a native of Lisbon, became blind at the age of six but nevertheless went on to earn a degree in law from Coimbra. Castilho ranks (with Almeida Garrett and Herculano) as one of the three best Romantic writers in Portugal, and Bell notes that "His quadras ... and his blank verse are alike so easy and natural, his style so harmonious and pure that, despite the lack of observation and originality in these long poems, they have not even to-day lost their place in Portuguese literature." Castilho published numerous works of poetry and prose, founded and edited the Revista universal lisbonense (1841-45), and began the series Livraria Classica Portuguesa, for which he wrote the studies of Bernardes and Garcia de Resende. He also translated works of Ovid, Molière, Anacreon and Goethe. His Faust translation is particularly well known for the controversy it raised among students of German language and literature ("a questão faustina"). Following Almeida Garrett's death and Herculano's retreat to Val-de-Lôbos, Castilho became the leading figure of the Romantic movement. His 1865 prologue to a work by Pinheiro Chagas, which condemned the young writers of Coimbra (Antero de Quental, Teófilo Braga, and Vieira de Castro) for "nebulosidade," incited Quental to write Bom senso e bom gosto, thus sparking one of the greatest polemics in the history of Portuguese literature.

FIRST and ONLY EDITIONS.

Volume I, subtitled Distrito de Lisboa, lists 497 illuminated manuscripts of the fifteenth century and earlier in libraries in the Lisbon area.

Volume 2, subtitled Distrito de Aveiro, Beja, Braga, Bragança, Coimbra, Évora, Leiria, Portalegre, Porto, Setúbal, Viana do Castelo e Viseu; Apêndice: Distrito de Lisboa, lists 543 illuminated manuscripts of the fifteenth century and earlier in libraries in the areas mentioned in the subtitle.

Both volumes describe each manuscript briefly: content, origin if known, date, collation, size, language, style of script, illumination, binding, and provenance. A portion of each manuscript is nicely reproduced in color—usually an initial or miniature, with some text. Herein lies this work's worth: to those studying scripts and illumination, a detailed physical description is no substitute for actually seeing a bit of the manuscript. Both volumes include indexes of principal and secondary authors, titles, dates, copyists, illuminators, languages, and provenance.

Pictorial bookplate of Américo Cortez Pinto on verso of front wrapper. Penciled annotations by Américo Cortez Pinto. 286 pp., (3 ll.). $120.00

FIRST [and only?] EDITION of this study of Portuguese literature during the period of domination by the Spanish Hapsburgs, 1580-1640.

Hernâni [António] Cidade (Redondo 1887-Évora 1975) is best known as an author of literary and cultural history and of literary biography. For a half century, he was a major force in the cultural life of Portugal. Cidade taught school in Coimbra, Leiria, Porto and Lisbon before moving on to an illustrious career in higher education at the Universities of Porto and Lisbon. In his youth Cidade was linked to the modernist movement, having been involved with the reviews Águia and Seara Nova, among others. He also collaborated in reviews such as those of the Faculdades de Letras of both Lisbon and Porto, newspapers (especially O Primeiro de Janeiro), and numerous collective projects such as the Grande enciclopédia portuguesa e brasileira and Dicionário de literatura. With Joaquim de Carvalho and Mário de Azevedo Gomes he edited the Diário liberal (Lisbon, 1934-1935); with Reynaldo dos Santos and Bernardo Marques he founded Colóquio—revista de artes e letras (1959-1970), and with Jacinto do Prado Coelho, in 1971, Colóquio / Letras (these last two published by the Gulbenkian Foundation).

Provenance: Américo Cortez Pinto (1896-1979), physician, writer, poet and historian, native of the freguesia de Cortes in the concelho de Leiria. "Zezinha" is probably his wife. Américo Cortez Pinto studied at Coimbra, interned at Leiria, served as a parliamentary deputy, a member of the Lisbon municipal council, and inspector of health studies, among other posts. He contributed to literary reviews such as A Tradição, Contemporânea, A Galera, Letras e Artes, and Ícaro, of which he was one of the founders, along with Ernesto Gonçalves, Cabral do Nascimento, and Luís Vieira de Castro. In addition to a considerable output of poetry, prose, literary and historical works, he is best known for the polemical Da famosa arte da imprimeira: da imprensa em Portugal às cruzadas d'Além-Mar (1948), in which he defended the priority of Leiria in Portuguese Christian typography. While Chaves currently is agreed to have been the earliest Portuguese Christian printing site, Cortez Pinto's investigations and conclusions regarding the diffusion of printing in Africa and Asia by the Portuguese remain valuable. Hernâni Cidade was one of Cortez Pinto's closest friends. Others were Afonso Lopes Vieira, Carlos Queiroz, Lino António, António José Saraiva, Sebastião Pestana, and Mário Saa. On Cortez Pinto, see Paulo J. Pedrosa S. Gomes in Biblos, IV, 179-80; also Dicionário cronológico de autores portugueses, III, 501-3; and Grande enciclopédia, VII, 818 and Atualização III, 498.

* Porbase cites three copies of this edition only, all at the Biblioteca Nacional de Portugal. There is some confusion about the edition or editions of this book, which we have yet to resolve.

FIRST and ONLY [?] separate EDITION of this offprint from the Memórias of the Academia Real das Sciencias, probably printed in an extremely small run. It is a biography and annotated bibliography of the physician and botanist Bernardino António Gomes (1768-1823) by his son (1806-1877), a distinguished physician and scientific investigator of the same name, who was a professor of medicine and a member of the Royal Academy of Sciences in Lisbon. The younger Gomes studied medicine in Paris and accompanied the Duque de Palmela on his expedition to Terceira. Through his writings he had a significant effect on medical nomenclature.

Provenance: D. João de Saldanha Oliveira Jusarte Figueira e Sousa (1811-1872), third Conde de Rio Maior, and his wife, D. Isabel Botelho Mourão e Vasconcelos (1835-1890). The Casa da Anunciada library of the Counts of Rio Maior was one of the best private libraries ever formed in Portugal. Much of it was dispersed not long after the April 1974 Portuguese revolution.

ISBN: 978187-5567690. $165.00

FIRST and ONLY EDITION. Fifth and final volume of this massive, extremely useful publication, filling a much needed void.

The first four volumes of this highly acclaimed Encyclopedia dealt almost exclusively with voyages and travels of indisputable historical reality. In this intriguing final volume the author turns his attention to the curious but compelling alternative literature of exploration; to imaginary, apocryphal and utopian journeys in fabulous lands; and to the abundance of invented, plagiarized and spoof narratives, many of which were accepted in their time as wholly credible but were nothing more than flights of the imagination, blatant deceptions, or monologues of doubtful authenticity.

In 640 articles the author reviews over a thousand accounts of this nature from the earliest times to the present day, resolving their complex bibliographical histories and providing biographies of their often elusive authors, many of whom are correctly identified and documented for the first time. In addition he provides detailed histories of the many fantasy islands that once studded the charts but have since vanished in the mist.

In a work designed to transcend all others in breadth and scholarship, copious indexes provide immediate reference to 2800 primary editions in all languages, 1800 authors and fictional travellers, and more than 600 imaginary place names. A further 6000 citations to secondary sources of study accompany the articles.

The illustrations include reproductions of title pages, pages of text and watermarks. Volume III, co-published with the Academia das Ciências de Lisboa, deals with sixteenth-century Portuguese authors and anonymous works from Abarbanel to Amato Lusitano.

The first two volumes, dealing with the fifteenth century, were published 1941-1944. Many more volumes were planned, but the project languished. Nevertheless, this is mainly a work of synthesis. Most useful and interesting, this is a book from which much can be gleaned, especially regarding printing history and typographical evidence. However, the section on Portuguese shipwreck narratives could have been greatly improved had the author read and incorporated the findings of Charles Boxer's "An Introduction to the História Trágico-marítima," in Miscelânea de estudos em honra do Prof. Hernâni Cidade (1957).

Poems by Perhaps the Greatest Female Poet in the Portuguese Language

94. MEIRELES, Cecília. Crónica trovada da Cidade de Sam Sebastião no quarto centenário da sua fundação pelo Capitão-mor Estácio de Sá. Rio de Janeiro: Livraria José Olympio Editora, 1965. 8°, original printed wrappers (only the slightest wear). In very good condition. Non-authorial six-line presentation inscription on half title, dated Rio, Julho de 1966. (1 blank l.), 83 pp., (1 l.). $65.00

FIRST EDITION. This posthumous work was made available by the author's widower, Heitor Grillo. There were subsequent editions of 1974, 1979, 1983, 1988 and 2019. Following a brief introduction by the publisher are a homage to Cecília Meireles by Carlos Drummond de Andrade (pp. [13]-15), and a bio-bibliographical essay by Wilmir Ayala (pp.16-40). The rest of the book, with the exception of a final colophon leaf, consists of poems by Cecília.

The Brazilian poet Cecília Meireles (Rio de Janeiro, 1901-Rio de Janeiro, 1964) lost her father before birth and her mother at age three. She was brought up by her maternal grandmother, a mystical, folkloric figure from the Island of São Miguel in the Açores. Considered by some the greatest female poet in the Portuguese language, she has also written some significant prose works.

105. NORONHA, Tito de. Ordenações do Reino. Porto: Imprensa Portuguesa, 1873. Archeologia artística, 1.º anno, volume I, fascículo II, publicada por Joaquim de Vasconcellos. A Imprensa Portuguesa no século XVI, seus representantes e suas produções. Large 4º (23.5 x 17 cm.), original gray printed wrappers (spine splitting, damage to head and foot). Printed on paper of high quality. Uncut. In very good to fine condition internally. Overall very good. (4 ll.), 104 pp., (2 ll.). One of 250 copies. $300.00

On the verso of the half title is a statement that only 250 copies were printed, presumably to be numbered 1 though 250, with a space for including the number. The present copy has no number. On the front cover is stated Archeologia artistica. 1º anno, Volume I—Fascículo II. Publicada por Joaquim de Vasconcellos. On the rear wrapper is an advertisement for "four works 'Do Mesmo Author'" available for sale at the Livraria Internacional de Ernesto Chardron, Porto e Braga. This appears to be a revised and augmented version of a work published under the same title in a small 8º format of 80 pp., Porto: Livraria Internacional de Ernesto Chardron, 1871. An Additamento appeared in 1874 in 8º format of 80 pp., also published by Chardron. We surmise that the present work may possibly combine texts from the two 8º volumes. A digitized version of the 1871 publication reveals it to be quite different from the present text. There were other works by Tito de Noronha published in 1863 and 1878 with similar titles.

Tito [Augusto Duarte] de Noronha (Benfica, 1834-Porto, 1896), began working as a printer. He then completed a course in engineering, and supervised several important public works projects. For many years he was chief of public works for the district of Porto, being responsible for the construction of a new customs house for that city. In retirement he devoted himself to letters, especially bibliographical research.

It has extensive quotations, some in Hebrew, from the authors listed. The second volume deals with Spanish Christian writers from the second to the end of the thirteenth century. Woodcut vignette on title page. In very good condition. xi, 52 pp. $400.00

FIRST and ONLY EDITION of this fascinating window on literary taste in the mid-nineteenth century. Salgado believed the Portuguese language had been debased through the widespread use of foreign words, and aimed to provide a handy list of authors who wrote elegant, correct, "pure" Portuguese. His list is based on Sousa Farinha's Bibliotheca lusitana escolhida, which appeared as volume 4 of his condensation of Barbosa Machado, Summario da Bibliotheca Luzitana (Lisbon, 1786). Having deleted and added authors to suit his taste, Salgado judged 112 authors and 77 anonymous works worthy of inclusion—most from the sixteenth century, some from the seventeenth, and a few from the eighteenth. Sousa Farinha listed over 200 authors for the letter "A" alone.

Innocêncio lauds the author's intent, but faults him for not annotating the entries and for not checking his bibliographical data, even though Salgado only mentions first and/or best editions. Salgado (1807-1855) was Secretario da Academia Polytechnica do Porto.

FIRST and ONLY EDITION of this valuable and interesting reference work. The fourth volume, dealing with twentieth-century literature, is much less common than the first three, and is often missing from sets which appear on the market.

Albino [Maria Pereira] Forjaz de Sampaio (Lisbon, 1884-Lisboa, 1949) Portuguese writer, bibliographer and book collector, a member of the Academia das Ciências de Lisboa, was the author of one of the greatest Portuguese best sellers during the twentieth century, Palavras Cínicas, first published in 1905, of which there were 46 editions during his lifetime. The catalogue of his personal collection of "teatro de cordel" remains one of the basic reference works for that subject.

Among the illustrious clients of the binder Frederico d' Almeida were the Count of Barcelona and the exiled former King Umberto of Italy.

The four volumes weigh in at over 10 kg. Shipping from Lisbon to European destinations outside of Portugal as an Encomenda Postal will cost $80.00. Shipping to the rest of the world as an Encomenda Postal will cost $165.00.

144. SANTAREM, Manuel Francisco de Barros e Sousa de Mesquita de Macedo Leitão e Carvalhosa, 2º Visconde de. Notícia dos manuscritos pertencentes ao direito publico externo diplomatico de Portugal, e á historia e litteratura do mesmo paiz, que existem na Bibliotheca Real de Paris, e outras da mesma capital, e nos archivos de França, examinados, e colligidos pelo Segundo Visconde de Santarem. Lisbon: Typographia da Academia Real das Sciencias, 1863. 4º, mid-twentieth-century burgundy quarter sheep over marbled boards, flat spine with gilt letter, decorated endleaves, top edge rouged, other edges uncut, original printed wrappers bound in. Arms of the Academia Real das Sciencias on front wrapper and title page. Light foxing to front wrapper; very occasional and very minor foxing elsewhere. In fine condition. 128 pp. $200.00

Second edition in book form. First published in book form in 1827, parts had appeared previously in the Annaes das sciencias, das artes e das letras. The front wrapper has the date 1864. Santarem provides comments, sometimes lengthy, on the content, context and importance of manuscripts in the Bibliothèque Royale, the Archives Nationales, the Bibliothèque de Ste. Genevieve, the Arsenal, the Mazarine and the Invalides that relate to Portugal and her overseas possessions.

The second Visconde de Santarem (1791-1856) has been called "the greatest figure in the history of Portuguese cartography" (Cortêsão, History of Portuguese Cartography I, 23); in fact, it was Santarem who coined the term "cartographia." He traveled to Brazil with the royal family in 1807 and held various diplomatic posts; he also served as Keeper of the Royal Archives at Torre do Tombo from 1824 until 1833, when he was dismissed for political reasons. Although he spent the rest of his life in Paris, his standing with the Portuguese government later improved to the point that the government funded many of his publications, and appointed him Keeper of the Torre do Tombo without requiring him to return to Portugal.

FIRST and ONLY EDITION. The great Portuguese bibliographer bitterly complains of his government job, full of trivialities, of the fact that he is frequently sent gifts of books with postage due, and of those who publish works criticizing the Diccionario. Most people will not even bother to read the volumes of the Diccionario that are complete, he says, and the volumes will only serve "alguns poucos bibliomaniacos que por cá temos; mas persuada-se v. ex^a de que o grosso dos nossos litteratos do dia nem os abre, nem os lê" (p. 10). Signed in print at the end.

Innocência Francisco da Silva (1810-1876) was the author of the first nine volumes of the bio-bibliographical dictionary Diccionario bibliográfico português, 1858-1870 (often cited as "Innocência"). It has twice been reprinted and remains a standard and indispensable reference work a century and a half after volume I appeared. Innocência ranks with Brunet, Graesse, Salvá, and Sabin as one of the foremost bibliographers of the nineteenth century. His annotations regarding the scholarly and commercial value of the books listed have rarely been surpassed, while his wide range of knowledge is wonderfully displayed.

FIRST EDITION. Francisco Martínez de la Rosa (Francisco de Paula Martínez da la Rosa Berdejo Gómez y Arroyo, Granada 1787-Madrid 1862) was a Spanish poet, playwright, politician and diplomat.

Rebello da Silva (Lisbon, 1822-Lisbon, 1871), novelist, historian, journalist, brilliant political orator, professor of political economy and dramatist, was a protégé of Alexandre Herculano. He was Herculano's best and most immediate successor; Herculano bragged that his disciple's work rivaled Sir Walter Scott's. Rebello da Silva showed considerable skill as a historian and an excellent prose style in such works as the unfinished Historia de Portugal nos séculos XVII e XVIII (5 volumes, 1860-1871), which remains a useful work. He was responsible for beginning to collect the documents on Portugal's relations with the Vatican that comprise the massive Corpo diplomatico portuguez (1862-), and he completed the Visconde de Santarem's Quadro elementar das relações políticas e diplomáticas de Portugal, which set out the Portuguese role in exploring the west coast of Africa.

Facsimile reprint of the valuable index to the multi-volume indispensable biographical and bibliographical dictionary for Portuguese and (to a somewhat lesser extent) Brazilian authors, writing in the Portuguese language, whose work was published up to the late nineteenth century or early twentieth century, generally cited as "Innocência". The present volume originally was published as a supplement to the Boletim da Biblioteca da Universidade de Coimbra, volume XXIII (1958), in an edition of 500 copies.

The first nine volumes of "Innocência" were written by Innocência Francisco da Silva, and appeared between 1858 and 1870. Volumes ten through twenty, written by Pedro Venceslau Brito Aranha, were published from 1883 to 1911. Volume twenty-one, by Brito Aranha and J.J. Gomes de Brito, was published in 1914, and volume twenty-two, by Brito Aranha, revised by Gomes de Brito and Álvaro Neves, was published in 1923. A volume of Aditamentos by Martinho Augusto da Fonseca, was published in 1927. Martinho da Fonseca also wrote Subsidios para um diccionario de pseudonymos, iniciaes e obras anonymas de escriptores portuguezes ... with a prologue by Theophilo Braga, which appeared in 1896, and is usually included with collections of "Innocência".

The complete set of 25 volumes mentioned above can be supplied, in facsimile volumes reprinted by the Imprensa Nacional between 1999 and 2003, printed on high quality acid-free paper, in the same format as the index volume, for $950.00.

Second, greatly expanded edition of the first Portuguese bibliography to concentrate on material concerning Portuguese possessions overseas, including America. The first edition—a slim octavo of 151 pages, published Lisbon, 1797—described several hundred printed and manuscript works chronicling the history of Portugal and its possessions in Asia, Africa, America and the Atlantic. The second edition—a quarto of over 500 pages—is greatly improved, with many corrections as well as additions. Innocência found this work still useful when compiling his own Portuguese bibliography more than half a century later. The Bibliotheca historica remains of considerable use for its comments on manuscript accounts—most still unpublished—of the Portuguese settlements in Brazil, Angola, Mozambique and the Moluccas. Also included are content descriptions, brief biographical notes on authors, and author and subject indexes. Pinto de Sousa studied at the University of Coimbra and is believed to have served as a magistrate in one of Portugal's overseas colonies.

The Arco do Cego press (officially the Tipografia Chalcografica, Tipoplastica e Literaria, located in Lisbon at the Arco do Cego), was established in 1800 at the insistence of D. Rodrigo de Sousa Coutinho, Minister of State, who realized the need to spread information on new techniques in the arts, industry and agriculture in Portugal and Brazil. He proposed to do this by publishing both original works and Portuguese translations of recent foreign works on those subjects. The director of the press (and author of the Relação) was José Mariano da Conceição Veloso (1742-1811), a native of Minas Geraes and a noted botanist; he was assisted by many young Brazilians living in Lisbon. The Arco do Cego was well equipped, with its own foundry for making type, its own presses and its own designers and engravers, two of whom—Romão Eloy and Ferreira Souto—later introduced the art of engraving to Brazil. The press produced a relatively large number of works, but in 1801 it was incorporated into the Regia Oficina Typografica, also known as the Imprensa Regia and later as the Imprensa Nacional.

Lisbon: Na Regia Officina Typografica, 1782. 8°, contemporary crimson morocco (minor wear), spine with raised bands in six compartments, horizontal gilt fillets and gilt letter, boards with double gilt fillets at sides, marbled endleaves, all edges gilt. FIRST and ONLY EDITION.

The preface is attributed to Francisco José de Sales, a pseudonym for Father Francisco José da Serra Xavier (ca. 1740?-ca. 1803-5?). In his preface to the second edition (1781) of Fernão Alvares do Oriente's Lusitania transformada, Father Joaquim de Foyos had cast aspersions on the literary reputation of Barbosa Machado, author of the monumental four-volume Bibliotheca Lusitana. Serra Xavier, godson of one of the Barbosas, in the course of rectifying the affront, makes some interesting points and provides numerous useful notices. Macau, China and Japan are discussed on pp. 55-65, as are several authorities, such as Ramusio, de Bry, Jesuit letterbooks, Guerreiro, Andrade's Novo descobrimento do gram Catheyo, Veiga's Relação geral ... da Cristandade de Ethiopia, Franco's Imagem da virtude, Kircher, Lucena, Telles, and Martinez de la Puente.

Provenance: The author and career government bureaucrat Jorge César de Figanière [e Morão] was born in Rio de Janeiro, 1813, and died in Lisbon, 1887. Son of the naval officer César Henrique de Figanière (a native of Marseilles; both father and son became naturalized Portuguese subjects by the 1821 Portuguese Constitution), Jorge César Figanière took part in the 1832 expedition from England to the Island of Terceira, and later in the siege of Porto. He served for many years in the Portuguese War Ministry and then the Foreign Ministry. When he retired in 1882 he had achieved the rank of Director da Direcção Política and Ministério Plenipotenciário de 2ª classe. See Grande enciclopédia XI, 280-1; also Innocência IV, 165-7 and XII, 175. On the bookplate, see Avellar Duarte, Ex-libris portugueses heráldicos 691.
